press play

by: ross miceli

To prepare for Easter students and faculty gathered in the Yehl Ballroom to watch and pray the passion of our Lord. It was organized and directed by sophomore Michael Mion (left). The lead role of Jesus was played by sophomore Michael Kauffman (right). The play was composed of students from different majors. ¶Traditionally, passion plays are performed showing the trials and crucifixion leading to the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Mion included the last supper scene and Garden of Gethsemane in the beginning with musical selections to build the significance of the story. Modern and classical music plus acting and motions were combined with scriptural readings and reflections. The audience participated with the traditional response at each station 'We adore you, O Christ and we praise you, because by your holy cross you have redeemed the world.' ¶This was the first time a passion play was produced on campus. ICHTHI members were instrumental in the promotion of the event. It moved audience members who hope it will become an annual production.

The opening Mass of the Holy Spirit was held in the Yehi Ballroom. As you can imagine it was a great moment for the beginning of the year. Students and faculty gathered with university priests and Bishop Trautman in prayer to call upon the power of the spirit to guide and enlighten us during this year.

Our campus ministers look so cute in yellow! The Diocese of Erie senior youth rally was hosted by Gannon University. College students participated in a separate track that included speakers discussing the Eucharist and it's importance today.

Jesus Christ Superstar was an amazing way to enter in to the spirit of Lent. Gannon students brought life to the performance, which was directed by Fr. Michael DeMartinis at Cathedral Preparatory School.

30 Hour Fast was a hands on experience for Gannon students. Having a fast builds community and friendships. Giving up food for thirty hours brings awareness to students about the needs of others in Erie and throughout the world.

spiritual worship

Students gather in the Mary, Seat of Wisdom Chapel for Eucharistic Adoration and Benediction. Organized by ICHTHI, adoration is held every month. The hour spent in prayer and praise includes music, silent prayer, petitions, and scripture all in worship of Jesus Christ, truly present in the Eucharistic Mystery. The small chapel is nearly filled every time adoration is celebrated. The Church reminds us that the eucharist is "the source and summit of the Church's actions." The People of God participate fully in the Eucharistic Mystery when they receive Holy Communion. Pope John Paul II made the appeal for people to know, love and imitate Christ. He stated that "a renewed [momentum] in Christian living passes through the Eucharist."

founder statia sullivan

Over the last year, several women approached me [Statia Sullivan, rem] about having having a place to talk about and discuss the Faith. So we decided to make a group. I asked these women if they would like to join and we began meeting.

involvement gu women

We are a Catholic women's group. We are freshmen through senior women who are serious about learning the Catholic faith & tradition; and where we fit into the Church.

interest common

The group picks the topics for discussion. We are reading the Pope's Encylical "Deus Caritas Est."

gathering times

We have two meeting times during the week: Monday @ 10:00 in the Campus Ministry office and Wednesday @ 7:30 in Upper Lounge.

We are instinctively led to follow our hearts. Our hearts are burning with the desire to fulfill what the great Martin Luther King had started before us. His dream still guides our steps. We have miles to go, but it all starts with the first step. The frigid weather is nothing in comparison to the coldness of hearts that too many people still feel today. Those individuals and groups must come to realize the power of truth and dignity that flows through every human being. Through our witness of hope and charity we, the university, community, and government leaders, believe what we sing with one heart and voice – "we shall overcome!"

Professor Fred Irby, III and the Howard University Jazz Ensemble (HUJE) starred in a day of performances as the University's Artist-in-Residence. The performances and workshop were held to help enrich the cultural aspect of campus life.

Hundreds of Gannon students and staff members gathered in the cold this morning to participate in the city of Erie's walk to honor the memory of Dr Martin Luther King, Jr.

The MLK prayer service was a very moving event. Following the service, Dr. Garibaldi received a check on behalf of the University to be used toward scholarships for students.

A soloist from HUJE performed his interpretation of music during the public performance today in the Yehl ballroom of the Waldron Campus Center. The Artist-in-Residence program was made possible through the Schuster Arts Fund and other sponsorships.

prayer service

speech by: semaj vanzant, given at the martin luther king prayer service

Proverbs 29: 18 says, "Where there is no vision, the people perish." ¶However, this opportunity has been afforded to us to review, renew, and rekindle the fire of the vision of Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. ¶At this time and place, some would dare argue that the vision needs revision. But I submit that the celebration needs restoration. ¶Revision of the Vision would be a travesty of justice ¶Restoration of the Celebration would be "with liberty and justice for all" ¶Revision of the Vision would mean that judging by the color of skin, is still in ¶Restoration of the Celebration is the fight for freedom we must win ¶Revision of the Vision means segregation is lethal ¶Restoration of the Celebration gives all a fair chance when equal ¶Revision of the Vision is unity denied ¶Restoration of the Celebration is unity personified ¶Revision of the Vision shows an escalation of senseless demonstration ¶Restoration of the Celebration displays an exhibition of peace in this nation ¶Revision of the Vision is dried wells of hope, dreams deferred, and a nation in despair ¶Restoration of the Celebration is people everywhere demonstrating the indefinable power of prayer

alma mater

by: ross miceli

Homecoming gives alumni a chance to visit the familiar sites and sounds of downtown Erie. They get to see their alma mater and notice the changes that it has undergone since they graduated. The familiar and changing have a very strong bond on the university campus. Each semester brings new faces and stories. Every year the family of students makes the adjustments from home to school and from school to the 'real world.' ¶Reflections show us what was and forward-thinking shows us what will be. Opposites cannot exist for long in such a dynamic space. We will always feel at home when we come back to visit. ¶The term alma mater is used as a way to connect to our university in a real and meaningful relationship. Gannon University truly is the 'fostering mother' that sustained us during our years of study and continues to sustain us in our years to come.

sixth st. parade blog

Supporting SGA former president Rick Julius and Megan Klass represented the students well as senior class representatives and as members of the homecoming court. How did they stay so dry?

Despite the rain a large crowd gathered outside Waldron and Old main to see the banners, floats and performances on 6th Street. The judges had students to keep them covered with umbrellas so their only worry was enjoying the performances.

I'm the law in these parts! Joe Rossi, senior member of Delta Ch... got to play sheriff for a day. maybe this helped get him some extra credit in his criminal justice classes. The hoedown theme was just right for fall in Erie!

Snuggling for warmth Courtney Santillo and Kyle Dore supported GUSPAS by giving their Homecoming candidates a ride down 6th Street. Students scrambled for just the right car and driver to make their presence known in the parade!

royalty

The homecoming king and queen represent our vote - a union that lasts over time. The king and queen are elected by the student body as representatives of the university. They are the quintessential element of homecoming. Each class finds them to be outstanding examples that will forever be the king and queen for that year. This year's king and queen are Drew Rogers and Brandy Brensinger. We join in the celebration as we dance and enjoy the bonds of friendship and love. When the night is underway and as the ceremony would have it, the previous year's royalty pass their crowns to the newly elected as a sign of unity and continued support in the future of the university "kingdom." Vive le roi et la reine!

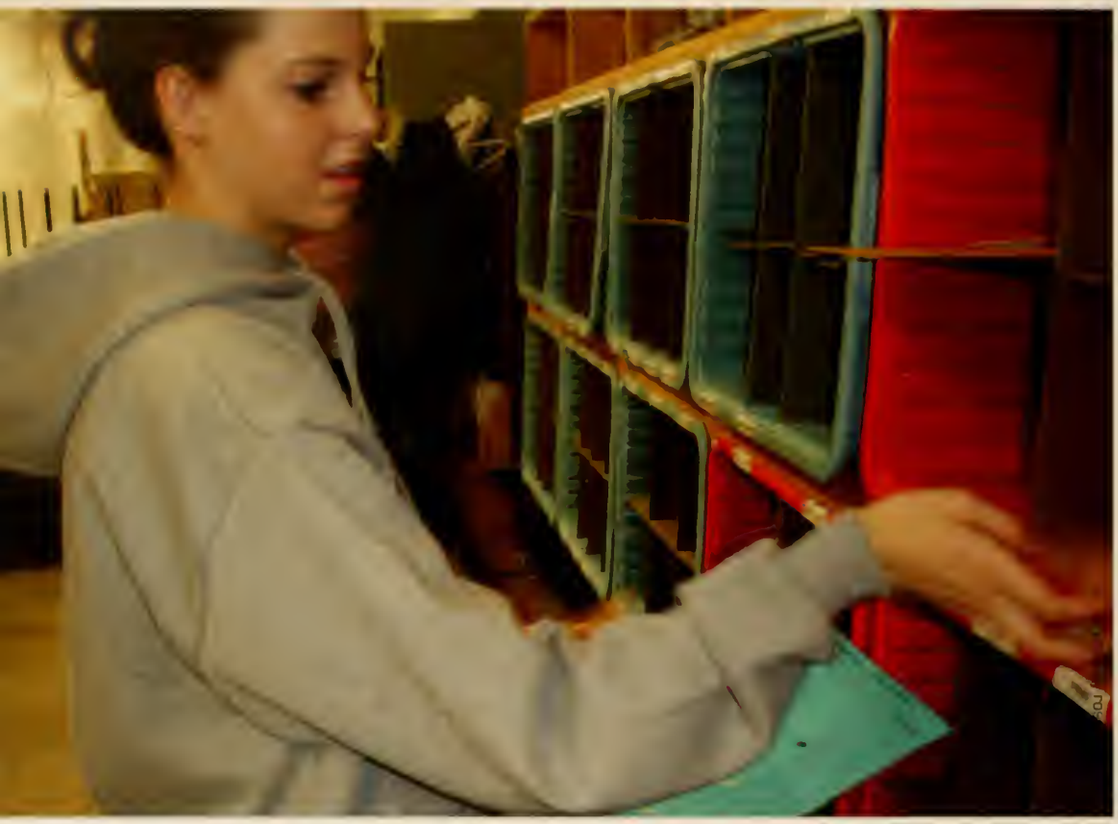
THE CHECK [REALLY] IS IN THE MAIL



postage paid

Everyone knows that in order for mail to be delivered, it needs postage. The cost of postage goes up every year just like tuition. A book of stamps is still cheaper than a biology book. If you order your books online, you're familiar with books and fees. That's a packaged deal. Many students have work study jobs, but not all are as visible as the mailroom student-employees. You probably have seen them on AJ's way pushing carts or dollys. They are everywhere. Students like Lindsay Hollerman place incoming mail into color-coded bins that make the entire delivery possible run smooth. Next time you buy a stamp, remember your friends around campus.

step-by-step delivery

how does your mail get to the right mailbox?

1 sending
Tera Alvut sends a letter home to her mother using one of the mailboxes located around campus. Mail can be sent from Palumbo and Waldron as well as the local post offices.

2 sorting
The distribution center in the basement of Palumbo is the "real" mail room on campus; all the shipping, receiving and sorting takes place here.

3 delivering Mail is an all day job at Gannon. For students, faculty and staff it is a job that is done day in and day out.

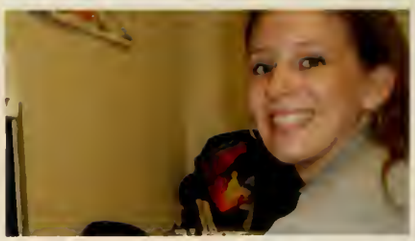
4 you've got mail (or not)
And it's not e-mail, it's snail mail! Emily Zechmeister stands on her tip-toes and looks into her mailbox. It is empty. What's the best thing you've ever received by mail? Your bills?

mail box blog

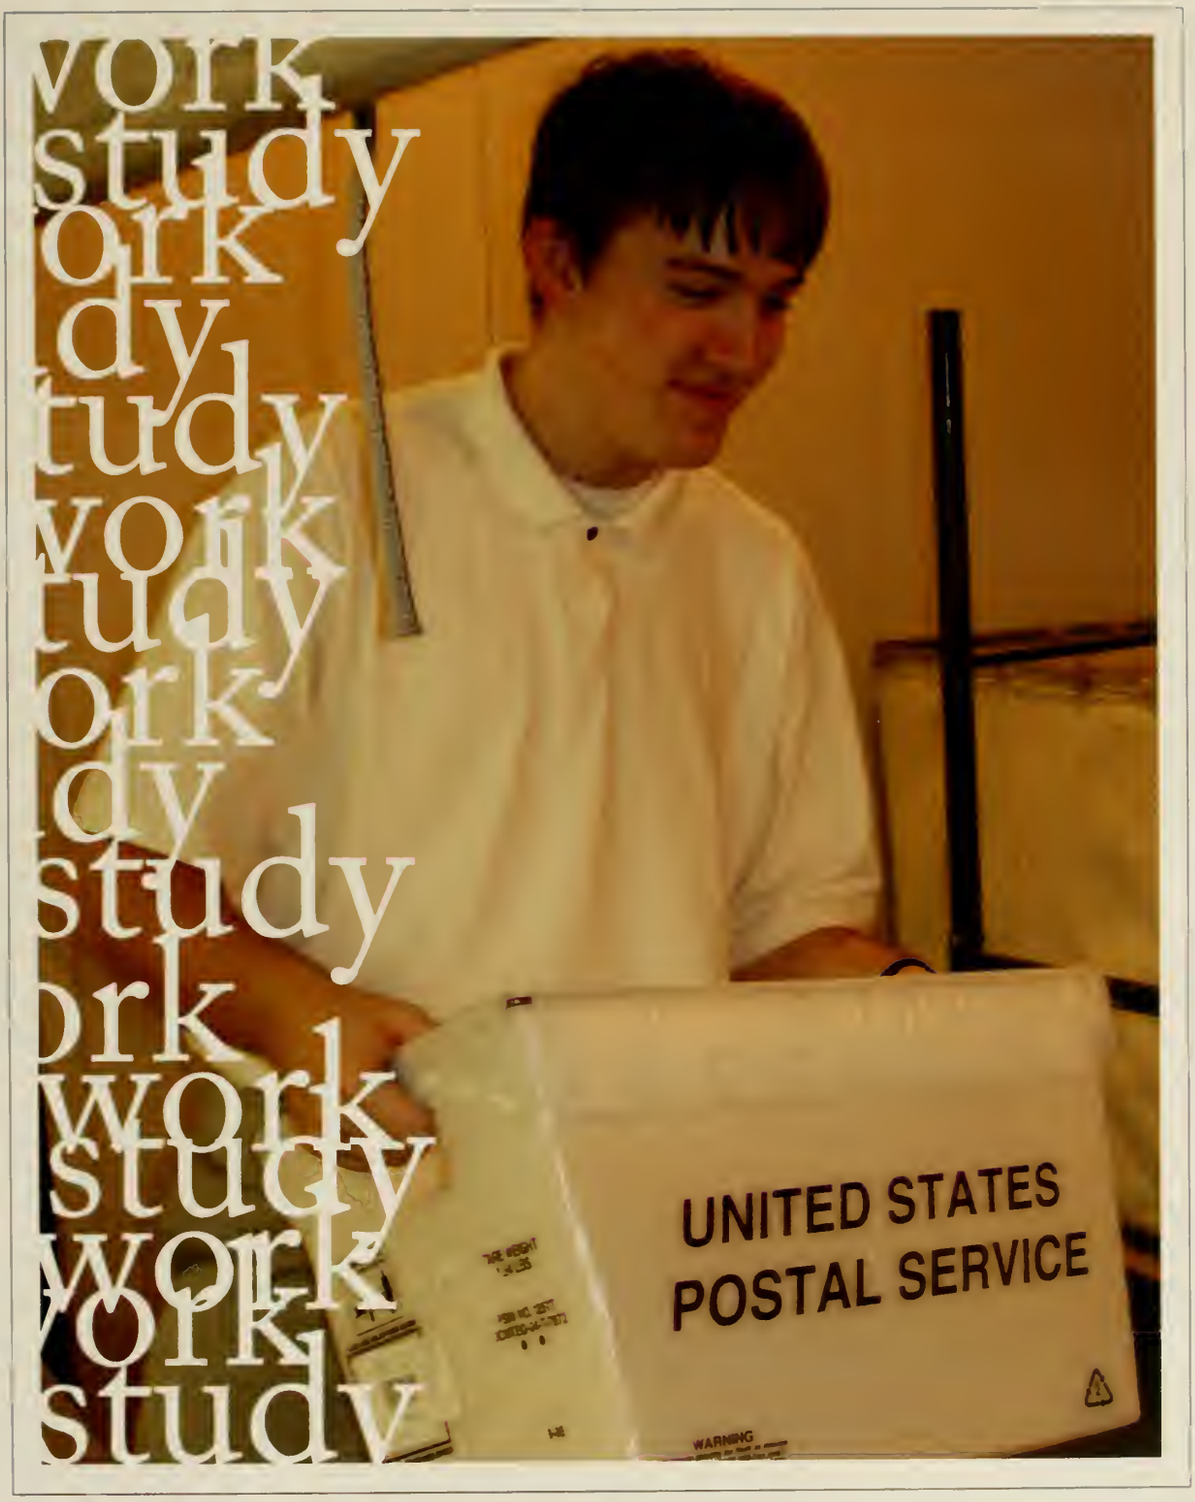
Gannon's Admissions Office sends bulk mailings quite often. With the help of Gannon Mail we are able to communicate with current and incoming students throughout the world. The postage paid envelopes make sorting a blast.

The other side of the wall, it is one of those forbidden places only accessible by authorized staff. .now you all see what it is like. Working in the mailroom has given me a whole new perspective on life.

A work day in the distributions office begins extra early. Before the day gets underway, the mail crates are stacked waiting for the sorted mail to be dropped in and shuttled around campus.



As a student, I love receiving mail from home. I don't know what I would do without the work studies in the mailroom. Email is convenient, but packages with gifts cannot be sent via Internet.



work study

by: ross miceli

You go to your mailbox, and voila, your mail is there. You know who it came from; but did you ever wonder how many people and machines touched your mail before it ended up in your hands? At Gannon University, 17 work-study students work to sort, deliver and pickup mail for the entire campus. They assist the seven full-time employees throughout the day inbetween classes and even over the summer. ¶Cindy Benovic, Mailroom and Distribution supervisor sets the priorities straight. "Customer service is number one," she tells me from her office located in Palumbo. Students tend to agree. They see their roles as very important and active in the vital functions of the university. Work-study students find themselves knowing all the names of faculty, administration and students. ¶Valentine's Day provides the heaviest load of mail for the campus. At the beginning of the semesters and before Christmas many packages are delivered, some with books, others with presents. Cindy adds, "we handle every box like it's the most important thing in the world, because to someone it just may be."

hall life

by: michael koprowski and ross miceli

It takes 845 steps from Waldron Campus Center to the first floor of Finegan Hall. Students leave the comfort of their rooms about four times a day on average. When you add walking from building to building; most if not all students walk a minimum of 2 420 steps which is a mile. A common day begins with waking up to multiple alarm clocks and crawling out of your bunked, not bunked bed. It may feel cozy but that feeling soon leaves when you step into the communal showers. Community is one of the benefits of living together, however, there are moments that are less than inspiring. ¶Rooms are filled with various objects, ranging from fish and plants to computers and refridgerators. These items are connected with the daily activities everyone participates in. The fish is your rebellious side pushing the limits of pet freedom. The plant is from your aunt who says you need healthy air in those tight spaces. The computer is your only mode of communication with the outside world. The refridgerator holds your leftovers that you never eat and end up throwing away on break day - that's one step in the right direction!

Rooms in Wehrle Freshman Hall were found "decorated" before Thanksgiving Break. It is amazing how these two roommates managed to fit a TV, refrigerator, computers, and beds in the room. The design is award winning.

Pretzels are good with yogurt according to Hope Anne Parks. I wanted to make pretzels because it sounded yummy says Missy Bakker (what a great last name). The real story from Jennifer Toney, Wehrle minister: Tonight we made pretzels and learned about the Pretzel Legend. God has blessed us with so many gifts and talents!

What more can you ask for during a finals study break: pancakes, good company and a game of spoons! I just got back from the Pancake Breakfast, which was a blast. Spoons can be a rather aggressive game, but enjoyable all the same. I think I only won one out of seven games, hopefully my odds will be better on my finals.

When you came to college, everything changed. You might have moved from your parents home, started your 'first' degree, or even taken on a part time job. All those activities lead to other firsts such as doing laundry. Hopefully when you came to college everything changed. By this I mean your clothes. They may have shrunk or changed colors or maybe you changed? It's ok to blame the 'sock monster' for taking your socks, after all, accusing your roommates just causes more problems. You may have even called your mother (or father) and asked them; "how exactly do I wash my own clothes?" The best advice is to check the settings and change them when necessary. It's on the label is another common answer, whites with similiar colors and so on. Settings are changing all the time, but we're glad you're here.

ST. PATRICK: FEAST DAY ON CAMPUS

togetherness | On this holy day, over 350 students fill the Carnival Athletic Pavilion for some 'late knight' fun. The sponsoring organizations create an amazing t-shirt that students sport for the rest of the year. Modeling the pot of gold are William Ward, Kim Varela and Steve Srnka who are thrilled to add another t-shirt to their growing Gannon collection. The luck of the Irish is present as students wait to find out who will win the best prizes of the night. Some lucky few will get to register early for next semester and others will get first pick in housing lotteries. This event brings the entire campus together for another night of fun.

Twister was a hit activity this year. I can't believe how many people were on the mats. Since yellow and blue make green, everyone was happy to get twisted.

Aren't they cute (Anna Stumpf, on the left says hot and Samantha Clawges says adorable)! They like to wear hats any day of the year, not just Saint Patrick's day. Green is definitely their color.

We decided to guess what Meridith Milner was thinking when we took this photo. "I am making clover leaf beaded window decorations. Some people don't know how to do it, but I am the best at making them. I'm so crafty. I just can't wait to dye Easter eggs."

Alpha Phi Omega sponsored the late knight green pancake breakfast. We made pancakes to look like shamrocks. It went till 1:30 in the morning! How exhausting. I slept like a baby that night.

get rec'd forecast

from: under the arch

Some 350 Gannon students are expected to attend the university's annual alternative St. Patrick's Day celebration. The event, Get Rec'd, will run from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m. Friday, March 17 at Gannon's Carneval Athletic Pavilion. It will feature prizes, including an iPod nano, as well as food, games, and music. ¶Get Rec'd is designed to provide for Gannon University students a fun, alcohol-free environment on what is traditionally a night of drinking for college students. The games will include basketball, contests, arts and crafts, trivia, and bingo. One lucky student will get first choice in the university's housing lottery. Three other students will get preferential registration for fall semester courses. ¶Immediately following the formal event at the Carneval Athletic Pavilion, Alpha Phi Omega will sponsor a "green pancake" breakfast in the university's Student Services Building. The breakfast will run until approximately 1.30 a.m. Get Rec'd is organized and sponsored by KnightLife, the student group affiliated with BACCHUS, a national organization of college students that encourages responsible decision making among students.

fresh air

by: jessica cocchetto

Springtime brings a much needed joy to the students, faculty and staff. The flowering trees and green grass remind us that the time around us is always changing. Every season brings new challenges and graces. However, by the time spring finally arrives, there are only a few weeks left and students are racing to reach the end of the semester. Finals are right around the corner, and students have limited opportunities to enjoy the beautiful weather before heading home for the summer. ¶Springtopia, sponsored by APB, is a week-long event giving students one last chance to enjoy time with friends and relax before finals week. The events this year included tie dye bandanas, airbrush tattoos, a rockwall, euro bounce, and old time photos. Pictured above is Matt Kerr in the driving simulator. The events, held in Waldron and Friendship Green, give students a great opportunity to take a break from studying and get out of the classroom. Springtopia provides the breath of fresh air that many students need right before the end of the semester.

Under the arch, then up, up, over the arch! Bungee jumping on the green was a wild scene! Students jumped on giant trampolines while attached to super stretchy cords. It was a lifting experience.

Jackie Bacco and Shannon O'Connor model the 2006 Springtopia fashion. This year the colorful scene was enhanced by purple and green t-shirts! It was peace in living color.

Rock climbing and dancing. What a great combination of campus life at its finest! Groups gathered around the 'wall' to see who could climb to the top. It turned out to be an amazing experience.

erie spring

Science tells us that when it is Spring in the northern hemisphere it is autumn in the southern hemisphere. The rotation of seasons is based on hemispheric conditions. Often spring and autumn are a mystery. The temperatures are relatively the same in these seasons. In Erie, some would mistake spring for autumn since the weather seems to often get a little chilly before the joys of summer are in full bloom. At Gannon we celebrate spring no matter what the weather! Rain or shine Springtopia celebrates the accomplishments of the past year and the hope in a beautiful summer ahead. It also serves as a great week to relieve stress before finals.

inspiration of mother nature

velcro made summer history | One lovely summer day in 1948, a Swiss amateur-mountaineer and inventor decided to take his dog for a nature hike. The man and his faithful companion both returned home covered with burrs, the plant seed-sacs that cling to animal fur in order to travel to fertile new planting grounds. The man neglected his matted dog, and with a burning curiosity ran to his microscope and inspected one of the many burrs stuck to his pants. He saw all the small hooks that enabled the seed-bearing burr to cling so viciously to the tiny loops in the fabric of his pants. George de Mestral raised his head from the microscope and smiled thinking, "I will design a unique, two-sided fastener, one side with stiff hooks like the burrs and the other side with soft loops like the fabric of my pants. I will call my invention 'velcro' a combination of the word velour and crochet. It will rival the zipper in its ability to fasten."

Mestral's idea met with resistance and even laughter, but the inventor 'stuck' by his invention. Together with a weaver from a textile plant in France, Mestal perfected his hook and loop fastener. By trial and error, he realized that nylon when sewn under infrared light, formed tough hooks for the burr side of the fastener. This finished the design, patented in 1955. The inventor formed Velcro Industries to manufacture his invention. Mestral was selling over sixty million yards of Velcro per year. Today it is a multi-million dollar industry. from: about.com genesis | In the beginning... the foundation was laid. In the beginning the concept was fashioned from raw material. In the beginning God created. God created our university, built of living stones and changing material. In the beginning many sacrificed time and talent in dedication to a legacy unknown. At the dawn of Gannon history lives of students, faculty and staff began a lifetime of learning. Keeping in mind the ideas that the creation story tells us, we become co-creators with God in making the world a better place. We are transformed by the gospel today to be living witnesses to our beginning. Each day is a new genesis.

our roots

by: ross miceli

Columbus brought the "Old World" to the "New," bridging the two cultures. The unity that comes from common roots binds all together. ¶Gannon College and Villa Maria College in an act of faith made a connection that would forever bind them to the common goal of spreading the Gospel through education. Our founders had the foresight and insight to plant the seeds that would one day become Gannon University. ¶Today Gannon University stands as an epicenter for all those women and men who dedicated their lives to the mission of our founders. From their humble beginnings as two small liberal arts colleges to the inspiring university of today, Gannon and Villa Maria continue to pursue academic excellence and provide a promising future. We should feel proud to look back on the heritage established for us and be active participants in the future that is in the making. It is our roots that give us the courage and strength to grow today bright start

adapted from speech by: president antoine m. garibaldi, ph.d., given at commencement

Congratulations to all of the graduates on behalf of the entire university. ¶Your families are justifiably proud of what you have accomplished, and they know you have worked hard to achieve this milestone in your life. Your perseverance will be richly rewarded in many ways. ¶I encourage all of you to set three important goals for yourselves as college graduates. ¶Firstly, plan to make a difference – One person can make a huge difference, so plan to make a difference. ¶Secondly, be strong leaders – You have demonstrated during your time at Gannon that you are leaders and that you care deeply for others in the same way that your family and Gannon's faculty and staff have cared for you. So continue to lead and volunteer your time in your communities, in your churches, and in your professions. Be strong leaders, for real leaders see what is wrong and make decisions to bring about change and to make the world a better place. ¶Lastly, live each day to the fullest – None of us knows how long we will live or what God has planned for us. Do not postpone the good that you can do for others until you are older. Use your talents and skills now to improve our society and the global world in which we live. ¶In conclusion, congratulations, continued success to you, and may God's blessings be always with you and your families.

There is that single moment when you receive your diploma. That first step into the unknown is sealed with the act of giving and receiving. It is not that piece of paper that makes you worthy to go out into the world, but it is the true value of the education that you worked so hard to comprehend. Throughout the years you made many decisions about school, friends, family and yourself. You worked hard to learn as much as you could about many things. The most important moments were those of real discovery. Perhaps you discovered something about yourself that you never knew before. Self-discovery is essential to a good college experience. You have finally begun the journey to finding your happiness. Keep going - there are many more moments.

MINOR FACTS
Leadership

Students can enhance their education at Gannon by completing a Leadership minor in addition to their major field of study. The minor consists of six courses which will cover skills in many areas including how to:

Solve problems creatively
Negotiate and bargain effectively
Lead, motivate, and empower others

University Ambassador Program

SPOTLIGHT

The University Ambassador program is a public relations effort designed to familiarize individuals throughout the campus and Erie community with the offerings of Gannon University. Students who are chosen to be University Ambassador s represent the student body at various university events and are an integral part of Gannon's communications efforts. ¶University Ambassadors are representatives of Gannon University at many of the University's events. These events range from casual (such as new student check-in) to "black tie" affairs (such as the Annual Scholarship Ball). University Ambassadors perform a wide variety of tasks at these events. These tasks can include setting up the event, passing out programs, registering the guest for the event, and answering questions about Gannon University. ¶Individuals who are chosen to be University Ambassadors represent the "brightest and best" students at Gannon. Candidates must be well rounded in terms of academic performance, activities, and/or athletics, and leadership. Individuals must have strong communication and interpersonal skills in order to be considered. Since the University Ambassador program is of such significance, competition is strong for positions.

Athletic Coaching

The minor in Athletic Coaching provides students with practical experiences enabling them to coach elementary, high school or collegiate athletics, as well as youth sports programs and professional sports.

The minor is affiliated with the American Sport Education Program (ASEP)–an organization dedicated to providing educational courses and resources for coaches across the United States.

Gannon's Athletic Coaching minor is one of only five in the state of Pennsylvania and one of only 60 in the entire country of its kind affiliated with the ASEP.

Students in any degree program across the University can declare a minor in Athletic Coaching.

By enrolling in the Athletic Coaching minor, you will gain valuable hands-on experience at the high school and/or college (Division II) level through completion of an internship.

Students in the minor will receive instruction from members of Gannon's coaching staff, as well as from faculty in the Sport and Exercise Science Program.

Courses in this program meet Act 48 Continuing Professional Education requirements for current teachers and coaches.

Sport and Excercise Science Major
SPOTLIGHT

Graduates with a Bachelor's degree in Sport and Exercise Science can pursue employment opportunities in a variety of settings, including cardiopulmonary rehabilitation programs, sports medicine clinics, college and professional athletic programs, health clubs and academic institutions. ¶The vast majority of Sport and Exercise Science graduates go on to graduate programs to become exercise physiologists, physical therapists, athletic trainers, sports psychologists or sports-medicine physicians. ¶Sport and Exercise Science graduates who decide not to pursue graduate studies may use their skills in a variety of health and fitness positions such as a research assistant, health and fitness technician, personal trainer or fitness specialist for industry-based wellness programs.

Psychology Major

SPOTLIGHT

The field of psychology is very broad. While many psychologists work in mental health professions, others conduct research, work for the government, work in business settings, teach in universities, work with the criminal justice system, or work in the educational system. There are many employment opportunities at the Bachelor's degree level, but many areas in psychology require a Master's degree or a Doctoral degree. ¶A Psychology degree can be combined with a number of disciplines at the graduate level such as social work, counseling, business administration, medicine, health care administration, law and others. Average starting salaries at the Bachelor's level can range from $25,000 to $30,000 per year. At the master's level, average starting salaries are around $40,000. At the Ph.D. level, the average salary starts around $48,000.

MAJOR FACTS
Electrical Engineering

Gannon's Engineering programs have been fully accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET) for over 30 years.

At Gannon, Electrical Engineering students may specialize in the areas of Electrical and Electronic Engineering or Computer and Software Engineering.

Engineering students can gain professional experience and earn academic credits through internships and co-ops. Through a special five-year program, Electrical Engineering students complete a paid, one-year, full-time cooperative education placement (alternating full-time studies and full-time employment).

Gannon's close relationship with Erie's General Electric gives Electrical Engineering students opportunities for internships, co-ops and jobs and allows for constant industry input into existing and new course offerings. In fact, most employers like GE will financially support students to complete their master's degrees.

Gannon offers the only master's degrees in Engineering in the region. Students can specialize in Electrical Engineering, Embedded Software Engineering or Engineering Management.

Electrical Engineering Major
SPOTLIGHT

Electrical engineers employ science, technology and scientific reasoning to design, maintain and distribute goods, services and information. They need to be creative and inquisitive, yet analytical and detail-oriented. Career opportunities for electrical engineers are diverse—from building locomotive software to solving communications problems and from working for private companies to working for governmental agencies. ¶Competition and technology are forcing companies to improve and update product designs and optimize their manufacturing processes. Employers rely on engineers to increase productivity and find solutions to various problems so they can remain competitive in the global market. Because of this demand, the job market is exceptionally good for engineers and is expected to grow. The average annual starting salary of an electrical engineer is about $45,000.

Business Administration

The Dahlkemper School of Business Administration at Gannon has received accreditation from the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP), making Gannon the first business school in northwestern Pennsylvania with both undergraduate and graduate programs that are nationally accredited.

Gannon graduates can continue their education with a Master of Business Administration Degree (MBA). Juniors at Gannon may choose to pursue an accelerated MBA program and complete both their undergraduate and graduate degrees in just five years, rather than six.

Gannon Business students have the opportunity to participate in many professional business organizations including the Student Investment Trust, Alpha Kappa Psi Professional Business Fraternity, the International Business Club and Delta Mu Delta Honorary Business Fraternity.

Scholarships are available through the Business Excellence Awards.

During their senior year, Business students participate in either an internship or service learning experience to acquire hands-on, real-world experience. Gannon's centrally located downtown campus provides easy access to the area's largest employers and non-profit organizations.

Business Administration Major
SPOTLIGHT

Career opportunities in business administration are extensive and diversified. Graduates in this field find flexibility and a sound foundation in the functional areas of business to pursue their endeavors. Disciplines such as accounting, advertising, economics, finance, management, risk management, management information systems, international business and marketing offer fast growing opportunities. Many business administration positions provide considerable responsibility to people early in their careers. ¶In a rapidly changing global business environment, employers from large to small organizations as well as government or non-profit agencies look to graduates with business backgrounds for the knowledge and skills necessary to succeed in this highly competitive field. In addition, the immense growth of entrepreneurial ventures in the economy offers business graduates the chance to be small business owners. Other possibilities in business administration include purchasing manager, business consultant, sales manager, human resource manager and retail store manager.

Occupational Therapy

Gannon's Occupational Therapy program is a five-year, direct-entry Master's degree. There is no reapplication process for the upper division.

Gannon University's Occupational Therapy graduates boast a first time test taking passing rate of 90 percent for the past three years. The national average in 2004 was 75 percent.

Occupational Therapy students at Gannon gain professional, leadership and volunteer experience through the Student Occupational Therapy Association (SOTA).

Gannon University is one of the few programs that offers its Occupational Therapy students fifth-year financial aid for their graduate studies.

Students in Gannon's Occupational Therapy program are not required to enroll in summer classes.

Occupational Therapy students at Gannon have presented their thesis at two International Alzheimer's Association meetings, at two American Occupational Therapy Association meetings and at State Association Conferences in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Occupational Therapy Major
SPOTLIGHT

Occupational therapists help a wide variety of people with physical and mental challenges, from psychologically disabled children to the elderly who have suffered strokes. They develop, teach and evaluate specific rehabilitation programs for each person in an effort to help their patients live as independently as possible. Occupational therapists work in all areas of health care, including hospitals, private practices, schools, long term and home health care, industry and consulting. ¶Opportunities for advancement are great, and after working only a short time, Occupational Therapy graduates may advance to become supervisors, clinical educators, case managers and American Disabilities Act consultants. The field has recently mandated that in the near future occupational therapists must earn a Master's degree in order to practice. Federal studies project the job market to continue to increase in strength. The average starting salary of an occupational therapist ranges from $40,000 to $50,000. [photo by melissa hanely]

Criminal Justice

For the last three years, Gannon's Criminal Justice graduates have enjoyed 100 percent job placement in their field.

Gannon's Criminal Justice program has a five-year MBA/MPA option that allows a student to earn a Bachelor's and a Master's degree in five years.

Criminal Justice majors can tailor a Criminal Justice degree to their career goals and areas of interest. Students interested in Forensics may complete a minor in Chemistry, while students interested in Wildlife Management may pursue a minor in Biology. Additional areas of specialization may be pursued through minors such as Internet Services, Psychology or Risk Management.

Gannon's location in downtown Erie places students near a number of internship opportunities, including Erie Bureau of Police, Erie County Adult Probation, Erie County Juvenile Probation, Erie County Public Defender's Office, Millcreek Police Department, Perseus House, Vision Quest, ABRAXAS and Crossroads Center.

Criminal Justice Major
SPOTLIGHT

The field of Criminal Justice offers a wide scope of fast-paced and challenging careers. A Criminal Justice degree provides a solid foundation for career possibilities in law enforcement, private security and loss prevention, corrections, human services, probation and parole, and is a preparatory base for law school. To succeed in this highly competitive arena, graduates need a strong understanding of the criminal justice system, a broad social science background and a critical sense of personal and civic responsibility. Criminal Justice graduates who are research-oriented or bilingual can increase their marketability in a field that offers opportunities in the governmental and private sectors, federal and state levels and local municipalities. ¶Criminal Justice graduates can find employment in a vast array of settings, including federal, state and local law enforcement and related agencies. Job opportunities are available in federal, state and county police agencies; prison systems; crime analysis divisions; adult and juvenile treatment facilities; county court administration; corporate security; and insurance and loss prevention companies.

Gannon Chemistry students develop a strong background and cover a broad spectrum of course and laboratory work in organic chemistry, physical chemistry, inorganic chemistry, analytical chemistry and biochemistry.

Gannon Chemistry students have the opportunity to develop professional and leadership skills through student organizations such as the American Chemical Society (ACS), the Chemistry Club and Women in Science and Engineering (WISE).

Gannon Chemistry graduates enjoy nearly 100 percent job placement.

One-third of Gannon Chemistry graduates go to graduate school; one-third go to medical school or a related health science program, and one-third enter the workforce immediately following graduation.

Chemistry Major
SPOTLIGHT

The chemical industry is and will continue to face demands for new and improved pharmaceuticals, personal care products and specialty polymers. To meet the demands of an aging population, chemical firms will devote more money to the research and development of new drugs. Chemistry graduates can pursue a diverse number of careers, including work as research and environmental chemists. However, the greatest number of job opportunities will be available in drug manufacturing, testing, research and development at pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies. ¶According to the Occupational Outlook Handbook, job opportunities for chemists are expected to grow about as fast as the average for all occupations. A chemist can expect to earn an annual entry-level salary of $42,000.

Gannon's Social Work program boasts a 100 percent acceptance rate for students who pursue graduate school and obtain licensure.

Over 93 percent of Gannon Social Work graduates find employment in the social work field and/or pursue graduate education.

The Erie area provides opportunities for field experience with agencies such as Hamot Medical Center, Millcreek Community Hospital, Erie Homes for Children and Adults, Hermitage House and many more.

Gannon Social Work students are active members of the Social Work Club. Gannon's Social Work Club organizes Erie County's largest Christmas dinner for the homeless. Students in the club also participate in various community activities, including the American Heart Association's "Heart Walk" and "Project Give."

Social Work Major
SPOTLIGHT

The field of social and human services is ranked among the top ten fastest growing occupations. Professional opportunities for social workers are anticipated to grow at a rate of over 36 percent in the coming years. A degree in Social Work offers flexibility to pursue numerous opportunities including crisis intervention, youth and mental health counseling, probation, employee assistance, child welfare, drug and alcohol counseling, family therapy and developmental disabled care management. Settings for social workers can be found in schools, hospitals and nursing homes. ¶Social Work majors receive individualized instruction that nurtures and strengthens their professional development. Each student is prepared to work with culturally diverse populations by participating in academic and social activities that promote and enhance the dignity, individuality and self-determination of all persons. ¶Graduates from Gannon's Social Work program have been accepted and are routinely enrolled at some of the leading graduate schools of social work in the nation, such as Case Western Reserve University, University of Pittsburgh, Columbia University and the University of Michigan.

MAJOR FACTS
Respiratory Care

Gannon's Respiratory Care program is accredited by the Committee on Respiratory Care Accreditation. Upon graduation, Respiratory Care students are eligible to sit for the national board exams.

Gannon Respiratory Care students have the unique option of pursuing either a two-year Associate's or a four-year Bachelor's degree.

Students in the Bachelor's degree program may obtain jobs as Respiratory Aides after completion of their third clinical practicum.

Clinical rotations give students direct, supervised practice with a 5:1 student-to-faculty ratio.

Respiratory Care students at Gannon participate in the Gannon University Respiratory Care Society and the American Association for Respiratory Care (AARC). Students are actively involved in service projects such as the American Lung Association's Asthma Camp and the Cystic Fibrosis Walk.

Gannon's Respiratory Care Program recently received a donation of equipment, inclusive of a Nelcor N-395 Pulse Oximeter, that benefits students in the program.

Respiratory Care Major
SPOTLIGHT

Respiratory therapists treat, evaluate and care for patients with breathing disorders. They help a wide variety of patients, from premature infants with underdeveloped lungs to elderly people with diseased lungs. They also provide relief to patients with chronic asthma or emphysema and emergency care to patients who have suffered heart failure, stroke or shock. ¶Job opportunities for respiratory therapists are excellent. Employment of respiratory therapists is expected to increase much faster than average due to substantial growth of middle-aged and elderly populations. As a result, therapists will be needed to care for the growing number of patients with cardiopulmonary disease. The most rapid growth is expected for therapists who have experience with newborn, infant or cardiopulmonary care. Respiratory therapists can expect to earn a median base salary of $40,220 a year. EXPECTATIONS
A Statement of Fraternal Values & Ethics

In an effort to lessen the disparity between fraternity ideals and individual behavior and to personalize these ideals in the daily undergraduate experience, the following Basic Expectations of fraternity membership have been established:

I. I will know and understand the ideals expressed in my fraternity ritual and will strive to incorporate them in my daily life.

II. I will strive for academic achievement and practice academic integrity.

III. I will respect the dignity of all persons; therefore, I will not physically, mentally, psychologically or sexually abuse or haze any human being.

IV. I will protect the health and safety of all human beings.

V. I will respect my property and the property of others; therefore, I will neither abuse nor tolerate the abuse of property.

VI. I will meet my financial obligations in a timely manner.

VII. I will neither use nor support the use of illegal drugs; I will neither misuse nor support the misuse of alcohol.

VIII. I acknowledge that a clean and attractive environment is essential to both physical and mental health; therefore, I will do all in my power to see that the chapter property is properly cleaned and maintained.

IX. I will challenge my members to abide by these fraternal expectations and confront those who violate them.

The "Greek System"

SPOTLIGHT

There are five national fraternities and five national sororities on the Gannon University campus which comprise what is commonly known as the "Greek System." ¶Since their inception in 1953, fraternities and sororities have played an integral part in developing both social and leadership skills in Gannon University students. ¶College is more than just studying and grades, it is a unique living and learning experience in itself. Part of the idea behind college is to promote education in life, which is gained through interaction with peers. The Greek System offers opportunities for this interaction through involvement in scholarship opportunities, leadership activities, community service, and social programs. ¶Fraternities and Sororities offer many channels through which a student can get involved, beyond his or her organization. Students in fraternities and sororities are campus leaders, academic scholars, and contribute thousands of hours of community service each year at Gannon University.

Fraternity & Sorority Life: SOLD Office

SPOTLIGHT

A social Greek-letter organization is a group of individuals of similar interests bonded together by common goals and aspirations. These bonds are created through rituals in which all members participate. Rituals are based on common principles such as honor, friendship, truth, and knowledge. Each organization works to instill these values in its members through their everyday activities. They are referred to as "Greek" organizations because the name consists of Greek letters that serve as a reminder of the values of the group. ¶Fraternities and sororities were founded on four basic principles: leadership, scholarship, service, and friendship. The Office of Student Organizations and Leadership Development assists fraternities and sororities as they strive to fulfill these basic principles. Gannon University fraternities and sororities provide that "home away from home" for students who choose to affiliate with one of GU's 10 groups. ¶The SOLD Office is proud of the positive impact that fraternities and sororities can have on their members. ¶Fraternally, ¶Katherine Carnell ¶Assistant Director, Office of Student Organizations & Leadership Development

International Admissions

SPOTLIGHT

Gannon University has a long tradition of welcoming international students into our community. Sharing different perspectives, insights, and experiences is as important to your education as the quality of our academic programs. ¶Whether you are seeking an undergraduate or graduate degree, Gannon will support you academically, professionally, socially, and spiritually. ¶Although Gannon is a Catholic university, we welcome students from a variety of religious backgrounds. Approximately 40% of our students practice a different faith. Our Campus Ministry Office helps all students find a place to worship, either on Gannon's campus or in the Erie area. ¶International students are also offered the services of an international student advisor and are encouraged to participate in the International Student Association. Each year the Association offers a series of culturally enriching programs for the University community, including the annual International Night.

Honors Program

SPOTLIGHT

The University Honors Program provides a challenging and exciting educational experience for the academically talented and highly motivated student. The program is open to students in all majors. The honors classes are small in size and staffed by Gannon's best teachers. The classroom setting encourages close contact between students and teachers and challenges the students to take an active role in their learning. ¶Honors at Gannon seeks to build a sense of community among the students and faculty, a community whose members love learning and are committed to growing intellectually, culturally, and socially. The University Honors Program challenges students to achieve their best and provides them with the support to meet that challenge. ¶Honors courses are for the most part honors sections of the courses in the Core of Discovery. They are distinctive in that the maximum class size is fifteen, and they are taught in a seminar format that keeps lecturing to a minimum and involves students in the learning process. Honors students receive special recognition at the graduation exercises and on their Gannon transcript.

Theatre Major
SPOTLIGHT

Unlike larger programs, Gannon Theatre students can get involved both on- and off-stage beginning their freshman year. Gannon has four main stage theatre productions each year on campus at the Schuster Theatre. Casting is done solely from the student body, with all crew positions, both technical and managerial, held by students. ¶Gannon Theatre students develop a versatile background in both classic and contemporary theatre. The Department of Theatre and Communication Arts sponsors trips to New York City and London, as well as tours of theatres in neighboring cities and participation in the American College Theatre Festival Region II. The Department of Theatre is affiliated with Alpha Psi Omega (National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity), The Association for Theatre in Higher Education, Theatre as a Liberal Art (TLA) and the National Association of College Broadcasters. Gannon's location in downtown Erie places students near three operating theatres. ¶Those with ties to Gannon's theatre program have enjoyed national success such as: Michael Morris (HBO's The Comeback), Shawn Lucas (HBO's The Sopranos) and Joey Mendicino (MTV's The 70s House). Communications

Communication Arts

Gannon students can find internship placement with local television affiliates, ad agencies and radio stations, including Gannon's own 3,000-watt broadcast and web streaming station, WERG-FM and WERGFM.com.

Communication Arts students have access to Gannon's constantly upgraded computer facilities, including a multi-media lab that helps prepare graduates for the growing field of digital communications.

Gannon's location in downtown Erie places students in the center of a large market which includes Pittsburgh, Buffalo and Cleveland. This gives students the opportunity to gain experience from a great number of theatres, network affiliates and radio stations.

Gannon Communication Arts students are exposed to electronic media technology such as computerized lighting systems, the IMAC non-linear digital editing system, Hitachi studio cameras, Panasonic "Supercam" SVHS field cameras, animation and desktop publishing.

Communications Major
SPOTLIGHT

As one of the largest exports in the United States, the media industry is continuing to provide a growing number of jobs in the communication arts field. Graduates of Communication Arts qualify for a wide variety of positions in the electronic media world. Opportunities abound in traditional radio and television for students who seek careers "on the air," as well as those who want to work behind the scenes in production. ¶The cable, advertising, TV and radio fields offer careers for writers, producers, directors, technicians, radio announcers, newspeople and salespeople. Recent graduates have also proved to be extremely competitive in the exploding field of digital communications. In fact, the versatility of this field also allows graduates to find careers in advertising and public relations, internet management, teaching, broadcast journalism, playwriting, audio production and industrial video production. Career choice and the location of the market determine starting salaries.

A NEW FAITH SHARING GROUP FORMS ON CAMPUS... ATTICUS, A MALE BIBLE STUDY GROUP, NOW MEETS ONCE A WEEK. ALL MALE STUDENTS ARE INVITED TO JOIN IN THE FELLOWSHIP OF THE COMMUNITY.

CAMPUS MINISTRY
Outreach

The Campus Ministry team embraces an ecumenical dimension enhanced by the Coalition for Christian Outreach. The team consists of full-time professionals, graduate assistants, and resident Campus Ministers.

The Campus Ministry team works to develop a community of faith through daily and weekend Masses, monthly ecumenical services and luncheons, retreats, inter-collegiate leadership workshops, peer ministry programs, Bible study-faith sharing and a week-long mission trip in May to Kentucky.

Campus Ministry seeks to empower Gannon students to share in the responsibility of their life in the Church through having students participate as members of the Catholic Liturgy Planning Team, ecumenical "Gathering in Praise" Committee, Peer Ministers, as well as being active at the Masses as Altar Servers, Eucharistic Ministers, Lectors, Music Ministers, and Sacristans.

Additionally, the Kirk House (located on Myrtle Street between 6th and 7th street) offers Gannon students (sophomores and up) the opportunity to live in and experience Christian community through faith sharing, community-building and service.

Campus Ministry
SPOTLIGHT

Campus Ministry, one component of the University Chaplain's Office, is a community of people who stimulate: growth in faith; formation of Christian conscience, leadership and personal development; formation of human community; and an understanding of issues of peace and justice. ¶Campus Ministry encourages college students to remain involved in their faith community. Students can help make their campus a more vibrant community where individuals grow intellectually, morally, and spiritually, as they learn to be effective leaders in the pursuit of justice and peace in the world. As Pope John Paul II said so forcefully, the world does indeed need students' energy, enthusiasm, and ideals to help in the great cause of transforming human hearts and societal structures according to the Gospel of Christ. THE CAMPUS MINISTRY OFFICE AND CENTER FOR SOCIAL CONCERNS OFFERS SEVERAL ALTERNATIVE BREAK SERVICE TRIPS [ABST] FOR STUDENTS EACH YEAR. THE MISSION STYLE TRIPS ARE A ONCE IN A LIFETIME EXPERIENCE FOR GANNON PARTICIPANTS.

EXPERIENCE
Center for Social Concerns

The Center for Social Concerns is located in the Keim Commons of Waldron Campus Center.

The Center for Social Concerns strives to make service an integral part of a Gannon education and to create a culture of service and citizenship within the community. It provides opportunities for reflection on the service experience to encourage critical thinking about the concerns of our society in order to develop thoughtful leaders.

The Center encourages students to become involved with the campus outside of the university walls by providing volunteer opportunities centered around student skills and interests. Students who reach out to others acquire a greater understanding of complex social problems and a commitment to address the problems in a just and compassionate manner.

The Center for Social Concerns helps tomorrow's leaders start community leadership roles today.

Alternative Break Service Trips
SPOTLIGHT

The Center for Social Concerns along with Campus Ministry tangibly demonstrates their commitment to acting as the catalyst to encourage student activism and responsible social involvement. Together they facilitate a variety of opportunities for engagement in the community including: tutoring local children in an after-school program, mentoring at-risk youth, working with literacy and recreation programs, assisting with services for those who are homeless, participating in community research projects, and the list continues to grow. ¶Each year, students are introduced to local organizations in need of volunteer support. Many students find that the extra time spent as a volunteer makes them aware of how important education and service go together. Some students make an extra effort to serve others when school is not in session. ¶During university breaks the Center for Social Concerns and Campus Ministry sponsor Alternative Break Service Trips to the Lakota Sioux nation in South Dakota, a Habitat for Humanity service trip, Kentucky service trip, and urban experiences in New York City.

LIFECORE: Spiritual Dimension

SPOTLIGHT

LIFECORE helps you answer the question "How shall I live my life?" LIFECORE has been designed to challenge students' growth and development in nine lifestyle dimensions through participation in activities and events, showing students a new 'way of life'. What is expected from students? It's as easy as 1, 2, 3...4! ¶1. Do something in each dimension. ¶2. Reflect and share your thoughts and discoveries in a small discussion group. ¶3. Learn about yourself and others while having fun. ¶4. Keep track of what you have done for your co-curricular transcript. ¶Spiritual Dimension – Values: a healthy spiritual lifestyle involves a search for the meaning of life through which a system of internalized values, beliefs and attitudes are formed. This includes the ability to discover and articulate one's own basic purpose in life; learning how to experience love, joy, peace, and fulfillment; and, knowing how to help one's self and others achieve full potential.

DURING THE SPRING SEMESTER, THE ARCHAEOLOGY DEPARTMENT DEDICATED THE COLLINS INSTITUTE LAB. GANNON OFFERS STUDENTS A MINOR IN ARCHAEOLOGY AND CULTURE, WHICH IS INTENTIONALLY INTERDISCIPLINARY. HANDS ON EXPERIENCE THROUGH STUDY ABROAD AND LAB WORK IS INTEGRAL TO THE MINOR.

BENEFITS
Catholic Education

When students come to Gannon, they become part of a community that is guided by 2000 years of Christian wisdom and tradition.

While students come from diverse religious backgrounds, and explore the world of contemporary ideas, the University is grounded in the Catholic vision of life – its meaning, its purpose, its value.

Students are surrounded by a strong faith community. Approximately 60% of our undergraduate students identify themselves as Catholic; the remaining students are from other faith and spiritual traditions.

The University faculty and staff include ten priests and five religious sisters who model the integration of faith with reason, spiritual vitality, and moral responsibility. Chaplains assist in providing spiritual direction and the formation of a Christian conscience.

Theology Major
SPOTLIGHT

The shortage of clergy is expected to increase through the new millennium. With a growing need in the Catholic church, lay ministers with a Theology degree will be in demand. Theology graduates can find a number of opportunities, including religious education at the elementary and secondary levels and as directors of religious education in parishes and youth ministry. A degree in Theology also provides solid preparation for graduate school. Salaries for Theology graduates range from $20,000 to $25,000; earnings can be considerably higher for those with a Master's degree. Job placement rates for Gannon Theology graduates are 100 percent for those with a Master's degree. Gannon University also offers a Master's program in Pastoral Ministries. Gannon's Theology faculty has been involved with other universities in Biblical archeological work in Israel and Jordan. Gannon's Theology program has the largest faculty within a 100-mile radius and offers a complete Theological curriculum, including opportunities to study Hebrew, New Testament Greek and Latin.

ten yards at a time

history in the making

Senior runningback, Ron Bailey, makes one of his 27 receptions in the 2005 season. Bailey finished his collegiate career with 75 receptions placing him fifth in school history

TEAM SPOTLIGHT

The Golden Knights know all about team spirit when it comes to playing local rival Mercyhurst. The Knights were victorious at the season-opener with a score of 35-26. The game at Gannon University Field marked the second sellout since the field opened in 2001

EXTRA POINT

Performance tactics on and off the field

Running, lifting, endless practices and staying in shape are just some of the daily concerns of a football player. This not only includes exercise, but also watching your diet. Senior Liberal Arts major Kevin Scott says, "You have to do everything you can to be ready for practice." Scott plays corner back and kick return for the Gannon Knight Football team.

To keep the football players, energy and endurance for the games Scott says, "I don't drink a lot of caffeine. I choose juice instead of pop and I take naps often. You really can't have too much food in your system either when you play, that's how you cramp and get sluggish. The key is to eat in moderation."

While there is practice during the game season, there is extensive training in the off season as well. In order to stay in shape the players have to consistently lift weights and work on their drills.

With the practices and exercise that must stay maintained, Scott believes that staying physically healthy is just as important as staying mentally focused, "I eat a balanced meal and get in the right state of mind before a game to stay focused."

PLAYER PAWS

Fetching friends

"One of my personal favorite Gannon soccer moments was when we were playing Indiana and they were ranked high in the conference. We played horrible the first half and we're losing 2-0. In the second half we all came out fired and I scored two goals to get us tied. In the last few minutes Katy Lynn scored the third goal and we won. It was such an awesome comeback," says Colleen Schwarz, freshman midfielder.

Team spirit and team bonding come natural during long trips to away games. Not only are the girls traveling long distances, they also have an unofficial team mascot who travels from New York to see them play on the Gannon field.

Colleen is pictured holding her dog Tilly. Tilly is a Jack-Russel Terrier who loves Gannon soccer. She lives an hour and a half away and is very impatient during car rides. Tilly was very excited to play on the sideline after a game.

"We've had Tilly for three and a half years now and she can play soccer too. Tilly moves the soccer ball around the field with her nose."

Colleen, on the other hand, uses her feet. She runs, kicks and blocks along with the entire team. Each member brings her own skill and personality to the field, which is evident by their camaraderie.

reaching a higher goal

kicking rivals off home turf

On a bright Saturday afternoon in November, 405 fans watched as Gannon went for the GLIAC title. High energy from the crowds inspired an amazing game between inner-city rivals.

SIDE KICKS
Taking the field

The Gannon Men's soccer team follows a very structured warm-up routine prior to every match. Approximately an hour before the game, our entire team meets in the locker room at the University field. This is the time when we receive a scouting report from our coach regarding the other team. Our coach explains how we will be playing in to order to fight the other teams strengths and exploit their weaknesses. We also receive the starting line-up at this point and find out our roles on the field for the game. Once our coach is done speaking, we lace up our cleats and are ready to start our warm-up.

Our assistant coach Fabian conducts a set of strecthes and passing exercises to loosen up our legs and get a feel for the ball. After stretching, we do another set of quick movement exercises which include sprinting backwards, forwards, shuffling, and galloping side to side. We finish our warm-up with one final set of sprints and head into the locker room for our final meeting with our head coach. While we are inside, we put on our jerseys and strap shinguards to our legs. At this point we are ready to take the field.

TRAIN TRACKS

Distance variations makes better results

We train for our season all year round. In the off season we usually do a lot of mileage and we don't worry about the speed but during our regular season we do a variety of workouts, from short speed to long distance runs. During the season we also practice everyday, with one day of pool work to relax our muscles. A hard practice is followed by an easy practice and each day practice is different as we alternate distances. Coach really does give us a variety of training courses, distances and challenges. Coach also leads us in prayer before games and then we all wish each other good luck. Each girl is very close due to the sharing of our life stories. The overall atmosphere of running and talking with everyone makes this a team sport as well as an individual sport.

not always an uphill battle

running the good race

Running with team members provides motivation that increases strength, speed and stamina for Joe Covell, Neil Anderson and Aaron Nicka.

CROSS SECTION

Out of our mind and into victory

When I run I think about things that I'm involved with – schoolwork, projects, ect. A lot of times, especially during long runs, I'm thinking how much time I have until I'm done. Fun runs happen during pre-season camp where the men's and women's teams split into groups of three and run around Erie following a path of landmarks, answering questions at each stop. The first team back with all correct answers earns a free ride home from Frontier Park (where we do speed workouts). During the season we do have bad weather and my body will acclimate to the weather after the first half mile. Running in the rain and getting muddy can be pretty fun, it makes you think: 'Who else is crazy enough to be out in this weather?.' just us runners.

NET TALES

Serving up spirit

A lot of us on the team play sand volleyball. Both have the same rules and we either play at Presque Isle, our hometown leagues, or at the YMCA. I play in the Pittsburgh Sports League because I find it to be more competitive, and that's just how I like my sports. Being competitive is fun but at times we just go to the beach to have fun, do some bonding and catch-up.

Our team spirit comes from within. When you are passionate about a sport, there really is no way to explain it. It's the drive to perform your best, you know ... leave it all out on the court, and playing with your best friends who are practically like family. You are all so close and will do anything for one another and your mentality is pretty much all on the same level so it's kind of like an understanding.

UNDERWATER

Rising from the bench to goal

I first started playing water polo my freshman year of college. Before college, I had never even seen a water polo game.

I got involved with water polo because Don Sherman, head swimming coach at the time, was also the head water polo coach. He took one look at me on the pool deck and said "You look like you can push people around, want to play polo for me in the spring?" I actually didn't really want to play, but he ended up talking me into it.

Swimming and water polo are two completely different sport mentalities. It's hard for me to compare them because I like them both. Swimming is pure power and speed, while water polo is team work and game plan. I love both of these sports because they are fun and allow me to demonstrate my athletic ability in competition.

My aunt is a Gannon alumni and she brought me to Gannon in November, in the middle of a snowstorm to check out the campus. I immediately loved it. I came here to swim and get an education and this is a great school at which to do both.

Before I played goalie, I played the bench (I'm not kidding). I basically walked onto the team freshman year not knowing a single thing about water polo. I was being trained as just a regular field player, driver, whatever but I was really just sitting on the bench during games. This went on for two years, until we graduated our only goalie and failed to recruit a freshman goalie. Being that our numbers this year are so small, our coach did not want to sacrifice a good shooter who had goalie experience and put her in goal. I ended up volunteering for the job, mostly because I cannot shoot the ball with any speed, accuracy, or velocity. So I figured I'd be a better help somewhere else.

I love playing goalie. I'm so glad that I learned how to play the position, and Coach Witt has been extremely happy with how well my skills developed and progressed during this season. It is a whole lot better than sitting on the bench the entire game and I've gotten a lot more "into" the sport since I've played so many more games this season than last season. Since I was the only goalie, I had the whole team relying on me and I think I really stepped up to the challenge.

BUBBLE BABBLE

Reflecting on high school and college

Water polo is more competitive at the college level compared to high school. Most high school teams have two or three dominant players and base their game around those players, but at the college level everyone in the water is a threat.

Water polo is more physical at the college level. There are constant fights throughout the game. There is a lot of grabbing and wrestling that goes on under the water that the refs cannot see, and at the college level the players know how to do this without the refs seeing it and getting called for it.

I chose Gannon because I knew that I wanted to play water polo in college. I also wanted to go to a school that had a good science program, and Gannon offered both of these.

I have been playing water polo for about seven years now. I have swam my whole life and started to learn the game of water polo around eighth grade.

Since I am left handed I usually like to stay on the right side of the pool on offense, so that I can get a better angle for a shot on goal. I mostly play as a driver throughout a game.

Hole in one

I began golf at age seven. My dad got my mom, brother, and I involved so that we could all play a sport together. I did it as a recreational sport until age nine, when I played in my first golf tournament and won! From that point on, I played in many invitationals, tours, and fundraising tournaments. I also started the first golf team at my high school, Laurel in Shaker Heights in Ohio, my junior year.

I like golf's ability to bring people together. Although it is competitive, I have made friends all over the country and the world through playing the sport. It is a sport of honesty and integrity because there are no referees or officials to monitor the tournaments. Golf also is very humbling. No one can get a big head about golf because it has a way of knocking you back down when you least expect it.

Golf has shaped my personal goals in life. It did not take long after I started playing golf for me to determine what I wanted to do for a career. My game is not up to par to play on the tour, but my involvement in playing golf as a team sport has allowed me to hone my skills in teaching. I have taught young people how to play golf since the age of twelve and my goal is to get my PGA membership so that I can teach people of all ages. I will use my business degree from Gannon to help me run a course or other golf facility of my own.

My favorite Gannon golf moment would have to be my team's first victory at the Behrend Invitational. My teammate Colleen Behringer, who is also a senior, won the tournament and it was our first tournament of the season. It was a great way to kick off the year and our season continued to be successful due to this boost of confidence we gained. I also had my best golf season at this time.

Gannon University Athletics has done a lot for me as an athlete. They have helped me mature as a person and given me all the opportunities that I know I could not have had anywhere else. I specifically am thankful for Richard Sukitsch, Kathy MacMurdy, Amy Gierlak, and Tom Simmons because they were the ones that really believed in me and saw me through these last four years. I only hope that future golfers will benefit from the Gannon golf program the way that I have

Plays under par

Senior Dave Patronik produced an average round of 72.9 strokes in 24 rounds during the 2005-06 season. He produced seven top-5 finishes, 10 top-10 finishes, and 13 top-20 finishes in 13 events. In the process, he recorded nine rounds under par, including a season-low four-under-par 68 at the NCAA Division II Great Lakes Regional.

Patronik qualified for the NCAA Division II Great Lakes Regional for the fourth consecutive season, finishing second with a three-day total of three-under-par 213. He fell two strokes shy of winning his second regional title and advancing to the NCAA Division II National Championships for the second time in his career.

Patronik has earned All-GLIAC honors every year during his collegiate career. The senior was named GLIAC Freshman of the Year in 2002-03 and landed a spot on the All-GLIAC first team with an average of 73.9 strokes per round. He won the 2003 NCAA Division II Great Lakes Regional and finished 44th at the 2003 NCAA Division II National Championships as a true freshman.

The four-year letterwinner received All-GLIAC honorable-mention accolades as a sophomore in 2003-04 when he averaged 74.7 strokes during his 10 best rounds of league play. He was then named to the All-GLIAC second team as a junior in 2004-05, producing an average round of 74.0 strokes in 18 rounds

IN THE RING

No match for the competition

During season training I mainly diet and condition. In the off season I try gaining as much weight as possible through conditioning and weightlifting. I also wrestle in tournaments in the summer to keep up.

During my red-shirt season, I worked out with the team still except I lifted the whole time to go up another weight class for the following season.

I picked Gannon on top of the other schools, because I initially was going to play football, but then I realized that I really wanted to wrestle and also because I didn't achieve what I wanted to wrestling in high school. I talked to Coach Henry and he loves wrestling and I felt that he could help me achieve higher goals.

My favorite moment while wrestling for Gannon is probably qualifying for Nationals as a true-freshman.

At practice we warm-up, do some drills, and then either do endurance sets or sprint sets. Practices are usually two hours, and we have morning practices every other day usually. We are constantly swimming, running, and lifting.

Usually before a meet I eat a peanut butter bagel or pasta, then Gatorade and bananas during the meet.

My favorite swimming moments usually come after a win or when we are getting taped and ready for our conference meets because everyone is getting excited for their races.

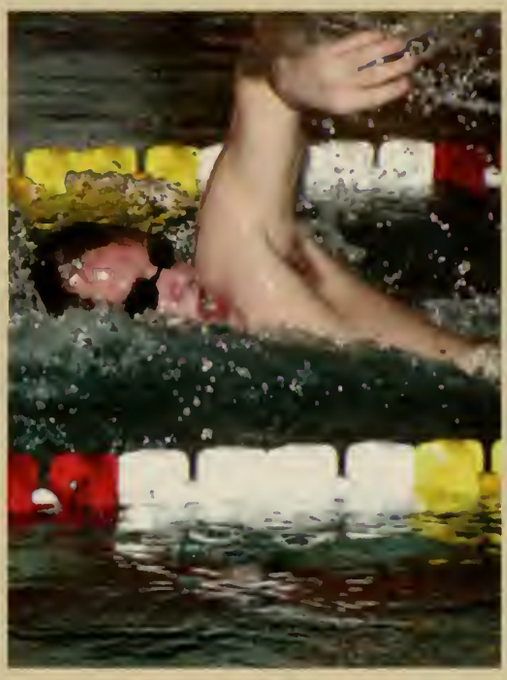
new depths. for swimmers

kick it in for the win

Sophomore, Igor Makovey, finished first in the1000 yard freestyle against Findlay with a time of 10:45.30 at the Carneval Athletic Pavilion.



DEEP END

Taking time to focus

We start practice in September and we have practices everyday from 3-5pm or 5-7pm and also we have morning practices 6-8am in which we lift, run, swim or sometimes do all three! We do around 6,000 yards in two hours. In the morning, we run, lift and do crunches, or we swim. The first week in January we went to Sebastian, FL for a week to train in an outside pool. We had three practices a day while we were down there. We averaged around 11,000 yards a day and also a three mile run and other dry land workouts.

Before a meet, usually I go sit by myself for a bit and focus on my races and I also make sure I stretch well and get a good warm up. It's pretty hard to prepare and also get motivated for distance events, because it's such a long swim.

Because I have been a captain for the past two years, I can't really be just another individual on a team. I have to get my teammates motivated and talk to them about there races and let them know that I believe in them. Swimming is a mental sport and my teammates and I need someone to just say "good job" or to pat you on the back.

Breaking the school record for the 1650 yard freestyle felt great. I see the record board every day in practice and I have always wanted my name up there. I knew breaking any of the records wouldn't be easy so I had to work really hard for it. It also meant a lot because it was a 12 year old record and I broke it by 15 seconds. I really didn't know what to do after that race so I went and sat on the side of the practice pool and my coach at the time, Don Sherman, came running over to me with a big smile on my face and hugged me, and then I finally cracked a smile too.

My favorite Gannon swimming moment was when our men's team beat Ashland this year by two points and it was a really exciting meet. It was my last regular season meet and I really wanted to beat Ashland because their 400 free relay outtouched me last year in the last relay. I got all of our guys together explained to them what happened last year and pumped them up. We didn't have the best times, but everyone showed a lot of heart. And it made me proud when a couple of the guys said that seeing me swim my races really inspired them to swim faster

future points

This year was very different from previous years. We lost our talented senior point guard Jen Gwin along with other great seniors. But at the same time, we gained five talented freshmen. However, new people on the team also meant a lot of learning. All the upperclassmen, including myself, had to step up and be leaders. I think something that I have developed since my freshman year would be leadership.

I believe that scoring my 1,000 point within the first few games of my junior year was a great accomplishment. This just gives me high hopes for hitting 2,000 before I graduate.

We overcame a slow start as far as wins are concerned. And although we didn't win as many games as we wanted to, we still made it to our conference play-offs.

I am mostly looking forward to just having fun my senior year! I know that I play my best basketball when I am having fun. I have had so many great basketball memories here at Gannon.

I truly believe that I spend at least four hours a day during the off season doing something with basketball. Coach Wright makes sure of this by giving us off season challenges. And these challenges are nothing short of difficult, so a lot of time and effort is put into preparing for the next season. I usually shoot thousands of shots during the off season. I also run a lot and take time to get free throw reps in.

OUT OF BOUNDS

Work ethic overtime

I first started playing basketball when I was eight years old with a few friends on an outdoor court and I started attending regular practices by the end of 5th grade.

There are a lot of Lithuanian basketball players who came to the U.S. to finish college and play basketball. I thought that it would be a good idea to do so, because in Lithuania it is almost impossible to go to college and play basketball at the same time. I think basketball is becoming universal now. Basketball doesn't differ much in Lithuania from the U.S., maybe except the physical level of it. Basketball in the U.S. is based more on physical abilities, while in Lithuania, on fundamentals.

I don't have any family in the U.S. My brother had a summer job in Boston for the past two summers, and my parents came for my high-school graduation. These are the only times anybody from my family has been to the U.S.

I think the most important thing I learned from Coach Reilly is work ethic. I understand how hard I have to work to achieve the goals I want in life.

IN THE DUGOUT

Breaking homerun records

I have played first base for eight to ten years now. I like all of the action I get playing first. I also enjoy playing next to Ann Waters who is a great second baseman.

I have been playing softball since I was eight years old. It has been a fun and exciting sport to have been playing for so long. I have loved every single minute of it!

I decided to come to Gannon because I really liked the atmosphere of the school and the location. I also liked how the softball program was run. The staff members of the school were very personable and helpful as well.

I believe my greatest softball accomplishment would be breaking the career record for homeruns. I did that against Slippery Rock on April 26, 2006 when I hit my twenty-seventh career homerun breaking the original record of twenty-six.

After graduation I plan to remain here at Gannon to receive my Masters in Education in Curriculum and Instruction. Also I will remain in the softball program as a coach helping out the team.

IN THE OUTFIELD

Making the move from the infield to the outfield

I first started playing travel baseball when I was nine years old. We lived in Garfield Heights Ohio and they had a ten year old travel team.

I went to Baldwin-Wallace College in Ohio for my first year of college. It was a nice school, but it just was not for me. I had looked at Gannon while in high school but at the time they did not have a baseball coach. When I decided to transfer, I knew I liked the school itself and my intended major, so once I met the coach I knew it was the place for me.

Before a home game I like to get over to the training room, get some work done with the trainer and just relax. I like to listen to music and think about the upcoming game. I look at stats from the team we are playing to try and get a feel for them. During batting practice, I like to wear an old travel team t-shirt underneath our batting practice shirt, just for good luck.

In the off season, we have a pretty rigorous schedule. During the fall, we have practice at 6:00 am every morning, Monday-Friday. On Monday, Wednesday, Friday we lift and run; and on Tuesday Thursday we are out on the field for practice. On four weekends we scrimmage some of the area teams: Mercyhurst Northeast, Mercyhurst, Penn-State Behrend and Canisius. Once the fall is over, we have a week or so off until we start winter practices. At that time we have individual hitting groups and conditioning sessions. Once we get back from Christmas break, we have indoor practices until we leave for Florida.

Last year I played every game at second base, this year I moved to right field. When you play the infield, you are involved in a lot more action, and are moving around a lot more. I like that because it keeps you in the game, and prevents you from zoning out. Despite that, I think I would say I like the outfield better. As you get older, the outfield seems to be a little less strenuous on your body. Diving catches are a lot more fun in the outfield!

My favorite Gannon Baseball moment would have to be this year when we beat the fourth ranked team in the country, West Virginia State. In that game, I hit a grand slam and we won 12-7.

FROM THE FIELD

Captain takes season seriously

My Uncle was big into lacrosse so he had me attend my first lacrosse camp in the fifth grade. From then on I went to a camp every summer until I played varsity for my high school in ninth grade.

During the season we spend a lot of time getting into shape before the games start. We run long distances and different combinations of sprint and speed workouts. We also begin to work on basic fundamentals and stick skills before we move into more complicated offensive and defensive drills.

In the off-season we lift weights and run pretty much every other day. Some of the girls get into summer leagues and play a few nights a week during the summer, but at Gannon we have fall ball, and then the season starts in the spring so we play pretty much the whole school year.

Practice usually begins with a slow lap to warm up, stretching and then shuttles and passing drills. Then we go into different offensive, defensive or transition drills depending on what coach wants to focus on that practice.

Coach chose me as a captain this year along with Shannon Pagano and Jen Westgate. We make a good team; Shannon is primarily a mid fielder, Jen a defender and I am an attacker (which is the same as offense). So we have the whole field covered.

What I enjoy more than anything else is spending time with my team because we really care about each other and get along. Unlike so many teams, our team gets excited for each other and routes for each other. I can honestly say that my teammates are some of my best friends and I think that is a wonderful statement to be able to make.

On Catholic Identity

In 1990, Pope John Paul II issued a document on the mission and identity of Catholic universities called Ex corde Ecclesiae, which means "From the Heart of the Church." The Pope's document initiated much discussion on Catholic campuses about what it means to be an institution of higher learning that is "born from the heart of the Church" (Ex corde Ecclesiae #1).

As a Catholic, Diocesan institution, Gannon is an academic community dedicated to teaching and scholarship, consecrated without reserve to the cause of truth. The very nature of the mission and environment of Gannon University is grounded in the Tradition of Roman Catholicism. Consequently, the education of Gannon students combines academic and professional development with formation in moral and religious principles.

Ultimately, the mission of the Catholic Church is to preach the Gospel to all nations, to make Christ's saving love present to people of all times, and to welcome all people into God's Kingdom. In our work as a Catholic university and in our living out these five defining traits, the Gannon community makes a worthy and vibrant contribution to this mission.

transportation

Michael Koprowski

freshman, finegan hall

experienced driver: I have had my driver's license since 03/02/2004 proud owner: I have a Red 96' Olds Cutless Supreme.

no parallel parking: I do not usually have a car on campus, but if I do I park in the ramp across from Waldron.

transportation: Well depending on where my destination is I sometimes walk or I get a ride with my friends who have cars on campus. I have never used the public transportation services in Erie.

weekend travels: I live about 22 7 miles away. I have people take me home... like my mom, dad, or friends.

close call: I've almost been hit by multiple cars at GU.

ride: Truck all the way or SUV... the gas guzzuling machines.

intern at work

Beth Toy

senior, commuter

major: management information system job description: I have been a Systems Analyst at General Electric for 1 year.

enjoyment level: I enjoyed the summer intern program the most. There where lots of opportunities, and I learned a lot about business.

typical day: I work on various computer related projects. It's a great way to help get experience before graduating. My professional status at GE is the same as the contractors, like hourly employees. We're not looked at any different.

job perks: It opens doors for any GE business in the future. Since a large corporation is everywhere; you can go anywhere.

work load: 20 hours in a 3 day week.

future plans: I want to move South and find a reasonable job.

junior, 545 atras street

degree: Occupational Therapy

member: Phi Sigma Sigma

change mind: I went through formal recruitment the spring of my freshman year with no intentions of going Greek. The women of Phi Sigma Sigma went out of their way to remember my name and everything about me. They made me feel completely comfortable in their house and with them. I enjoyed every moment of formal recruitment so much!

perks of sisterhood: My favorite part about being a sister is knowing that no matter what happens, I have sisters who care about me and will do anything for me.

wardrobe overload: I have a lot of clothes with letters - ten or twelve shirts, a jacket and a sweatshirt.

community service: We volunteer at all the GU sponsored events, as well as at the Women's Club on 6th street.

living on campus

Ashley Hall

freshman, Wehrle hall

pjs optional: Kinda like having a sleep over 24/7.

roommate strategy: Never shared a room before in my life.

room rates: It's really small, but it's not bad.

three essentials + one: Mirror, computer, alarm clock and my fake curtain because it's so bright in here.

late-night fun: I wish there were more things to do. There are ping-pong tables in the basement, but you gotta bring your own balls!

in her own words: Living here was so new to me... my bed at home is a double. Basically I prefer to stay at home rather than in my room on the weekends.

affiliation: I am a Poli Sci major with minors in Criminal Justice & Pre-law.

the right choice: I chose Gannon because it is not to far from home. I toured it and liked it. Going Greek was the best experience I've had here.

brotherhood: I live in the Delta Chi House with four other guys. The fraternity needed people to live there and since I was president I stepped up and moved in. I always wanted to live there and it was my Senior year! Plus rent is cheaper, and it is an experience all in itself.

contributions: I am currently president of Phi Eta Sigma, a member of SGA, as well as Psi Chi and the Psychology Club.

graduation preparation: I have developed people skills and a knowledge base which will help me to pursue my goals after graduation.

climbing the ladder: I have been a member of SGA for going on three years. The best leadership experience that I have gained has come from serving as the Vice President of Academic Affairs. In that postition I learned not only how to manage myself in a position that deserves respect but also how to step up to that role and expand the SGA's good name where possible.

scene. I work for CAAP and PSLD as a tutor for students in business/accounting classes.

personal growth: Being a tutor has increased my patience and understanding. It has also taught me to be creative in the ways I teach.

where: I meet some students in my office in PSLD. Other study places on campus can be distracting. The library provides a more studious atmosphere.

most enjoyable experience: I had a tutee from another country. I was very proud of the student for having worked so hard to understand both the concepts and the language.

scheduling: I put all of my tutoring sessions in my planner.

outcomes: My biggest joy comes out of seeing my tutees do well. Generally, I do see a change in their work, especially if we have worked together all semester. This is very rewarding for me because I know that my tutees worked hard, and I was able to help them succeed in their classes.

junior teke house

spring break plans: For Spring break 2006 I went to Orlando, Florida. I loved it!

travel partners: Melissa, my girlfriend, and I went for a nice relaxing trip, just the two of us.

time in the sun: We spent four or five days in the nice weather.

reasons for traveling: 1) It was hot. 2) Orlando has theme parks around it. 3) Florida is not Erie!

big bucks: Our plane tickets were free... Between the hotel, park tickets, food and of course souvenirs the entire trip cost $400.00.

future plans: If I have the money next year... I'll probably go somewhere for Spring break. I will probably go to Disney again at some point in time.

hot off the press

Benjamin Speggen

junior, off campus

down to business: I work as the managing editor and editor of the news section.

breaking news: I recently covered the story regarding Voice for Peace's demonstration of the entrance into Iraq. I think that piece provided a fair and balanced story. I have a myriad of opinions about a plethora of things, but I'm just the media middleman. I think that story relayed the information to the audience very well.

'knight' owl: In regards to journalism, I do my best work in the heat of the moment when filled with passion. As for my creative writing, I typically write my best, or what I think is my best, at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning with a cup of tea and acoustic Nirvana or Bob Dylan on the stereo.

passionate aspirations: I plan to pursue writing as a career, teaching creative writing on a collegiate level.

call me

Sara Levine

freshman, wehrle hall

communication mode: Cell phone, I call my mom about five times a day.

minutes: We have free Sprint to Sprint so my mom and I talk anytime. Then for other calls I use my free minutes after seven.

txt: I have unlimited text messaging. I even taught my mom how to text message, which was a big mistake.

miss manners: I leave my phone on silent during classes. I hate hearing peoples' conversations when I'm at work. If I get a call while I'm in line at a store I call them back later.

speed dial: I have 71 numbers, but only five are for people here on campus so far... Without my cell phone I wouldn't know anyone's number. I use speed dial for everyone.

gannon guide

work logistics: I have been a Gannon Guide for one year (since fall 2005). My job entails touring prospective students and their families around campus and working for the admissions staff.

dinero: The pay is fine, maybe I'll get a semester raise.

time: 10 hrs. per week

bright sight: My favorite site on campus is Old Main, because that building is amazing.

gab: As a campus guide I have learned great communication skills. While working with complete strangers for over an hour you need to know how to keep the communication going and not have those awkward silence moments.

tall tales: The most interesting "fact" about Gannon that I tell to visitors is that 'AJ Palumbo laid every brick in AJ's way in one day by himself.'

intramurals

sophomore, kenilworth

number one sport: Basketball time well spend: 2 years experience: It's all a good time - It's just great to get together with all your friends and have fun playing a sport.

participation points: Kara Clark and I are the chairs for the Intramural Committee for the Honors Program, but I really like to play sports to stay in shape and to have fun. We have participated in all of the intramural events this year - basketball, soccer, dodgeball, handball, etc.

pre-game ritual: Nothing too special, we just get in a huddle, have a little motivational speech, talk about the game plan, and then throw our hands in the center and shout honors.

re-fuel: I prefer water; Gatorade is too sweet.

two times the fun

Amy Oligeri
freshman, finegan hall

note: they were questioned individually

major: Business Administation favorite color: Blue.
matching pair: There are only two times we wore matching outfits and that was in high school when we had to wear a uniform. The second time was for Halloween when we dressed as twins.
oldest: I am the middle child of the family by two proud minutes.
college life: I love living on campus and enjoying the student life atmosphere.
roomies for life: We are going to share an apartment together next year, however not a bedroom.
who's smartest? I am definately the smartest, but if you talk to Stephanie she might try to persuade you otherwise.

Stephanie Oligeri
freshman, finegan hall

major: Business Management
favorite color: Blue!
matching pair: Amy and I never match our outfits, but our parents dressed us alike when we were younger.
oldest: I am by two very proud minutes.
college life: I love living on campus, because it is a whole new atmosphere living downtown.
roomies for life: We are going to be living in the same apartment next year but we will not be living in the same room. After living in the same room for 18 years we feel that it is time to move on.

Rolf Hanson

Dear Rolf,

Congratulations on your four years of academic success at Gannon. May you find continued success in grad school. You have been so passionate and driven in your endeavors of Biology. You have made us so proud of all that you have accomplished in your life so far. Continue to set your goals high as you continue your dreams of the future. We know you can achieve anything you set your heart to do, and we enthusiastically support you. We love you with all the love in our hearts.

Love always,

Mom and Dad

Andrea Presto

Congratulations Andrea,

We hope your college years have been all that you dreamed them to be. We have watched you develop into a beautiful, compassionate, and confident professional who enriches the lives of all who know you. The world will be a better place because you chose teaching. We are proud of you and wish you good health and happiness in all of your future endeavors.

We love you

Mom and Dad

Dear Laura,

You have many gifts. Laura, you always succeed in completing what you attempt because of your work ethic and enthusiam. You are a wonderful, loving person with a gentle, caring personality.

We are very proud of your success and your healing touch. Reach for the stars!

Love,

Mom and Dad

Dear Claire,

Congratulations on achieving four years of great success, academic excellence, and spiritual growth! We are so proud of you.

You have overcome many challenges with great faith: leaving your country of the Bahamas to begin studies in a land of different customs and very different weather, making new friends, and meeting people from many varied careers and countries, and even coping with the loss of you very dear friend and classmate Maricia.

Your life of dedication and perseverance has been a tremendous inspiration and encouragement to us and all those around you. We know you are distined to greateness in God and you fulfill His calling and purpose infor your life.

We love you dearly, and pray God's special blessings for your future.

Mum, Dad, and Beth

senior tribute

gannon university
from family and friends

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us"
-S.T. Coleridge

Claire you have it in you to take the world in your stride. Go forward and make all your dreams come true.

We are so very, very proud of you.

Best wishes with all our love
Momma, Poppa and Aunts (your only one)

We know you expect us to talk about all of the trouble that you've gotten us into over the years, but since this is such a special occasion we thought that we would just tell you how much you mean to us instead. You are not just our best friend, but our sister. We are so happy to have you in our lives and we are so proud of you for all your hard work. Congratualtions on your gradution and we love you Dr. Moree!

Always, Heather and Amanda
"CHA-CHA" forever

To All My Family and Friends,

This tribute is to thank you for all the love and support over these four years. It has been very hard at times, but thanks to God and to you I've somehow made it through. I love you all very much!

"For I know the plans I have for you, says the Lord, plans to prosper and not to harm you, to give you a hope and a future." -Jeremiah 29:11

Love Always,
Claire (Clairesy, Nana, Moree, Myrts, etc.)

senior tribute

gannon university
from family and friends

First. God, who guides with goodness
Second: Parents, a Mom who loves and nurtures, and a Dad who encourages and supports Third: You, Michael J. Todd

The challenges were tough but you persevered and accomplished your educational goals. Yes, Gannon University provided the opportunity, set the environment, and gave encouragement. GU - The Right Place For You.

All of these shall resonate in various unimaginable good. Through prudent action, confidence in yourself, and trust in God it works. EXCELSIOR!

24 april 2005

Following the death of Pope John Paul II earlier in the year, Cardinal Ratzinger is elected Pope. His intallation was greeted by thousands of pilgrims from around the world. During his homily Pope Benedict said, "All the Saints of God are there to protect me, to sustain me and to carry me. And your prayers, my dear friends, your indulgence, your love, your faith and your hope accompany me."

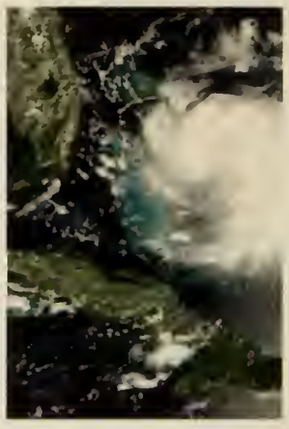
Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire: Beset by nightmares, Harry Potter is all too happy to escape his disturbing dreams by attending the Quidditch World Cup. But something sinister ignites the skies at the Quidditch campsite–the Dark Mark, the sign of the evil Lord Voldemort. It's conjured by his followers, the Death Eaters, who haven't dared to appear in public since Voldemort was last seen thirteen years ago–the night he murdered Harry's parents.



29 august 2005

As Hurricane Katrina hit land on August 29, 2005 early on a Monday morning with 145-mph winds, there had been hopes briefly raised that the city of New Orleans would once again narrowly miss out on a major catastrophe.

25 august 2005

Student Government Association purchased a bus that students can use to get to popular locations around the city. It officially began transporting students on Friday, August 25, 2005.

7 december 2005

Casting Call: Campus Edition. The search is on for a few lucky students to appear on a reality series with a chance at $50,000. Auditions are being taken for Fear Factor, Real World and Road Rules. Syrus Yarbrough visited campus to see if who would like to star in a reality show and win some serious cash! Auditions were held in the Yehl Ballroom and the event was sponsored by APB.

Thai fishermen netted what is thought to be the world's biggest freshwater fish, a 292kg (644 pound) Mekong giant catfish, in the Mekong River, northern Thailand. The World Wildlife Fund hopes the catch will highlight the plight of the Mekong giant catfish, which is a critically endangered species.

june 2006

NUREMBERG, Germany (AP) - They were confident. They were hyped. Instead of building on their World Cup glory of 2002, much less matching it, the Americans crashed out in the first round just like in 1998, overmatched by superior opponents and their own expectations. The USA crashed out of the World Cup after losing to Ghana. During the final match, the 2006 World Cup went to Italy after beating France in an over-time fight to the finish. This is Italy's fourth victory.

january to march 2006

Shelley Winters, actress, died January 14 at the age of 85. Coretta Scott King, widow of the civil rights leader, died January 31 at the age of 78. Chris Penn, actor best known for his role in Reservoir Dogs, died January 24 at the age of 40. Betty Friedan, feminist, died February 4 at the age of 85. Don Knotts, comic actor best known as Barney Fife on the Andy Griffith show, died February 24 at the age of 81.Kirby Puckett, hall of fame baseball player, died February 26 at the age of 45.

The story behind the RAZR's creation (FORTUEN) In reality, the RAZR - a play on a code name the geeks themselves dreamed up - was hatched in colorless cubicles in exurban Libertyville, an hour's drive north of Chicago. It was a skunkworks project whose tight-knit team repeatedly flouted Motorola's own rules for developing new products. They kept the project top-secret, even from their colleagues. They used materials and techniques Motorola had never tried before. After contentious internal battles, they threw out accepted models of what a mobile telephone should look and feel like. In short, the team that created the RAZR broke the mold, and in the process rejuvenated the company.

20 september 2005

A prayer service was held in Zurn 101. In addition, Gannon students presented a check to the American Red Cross. Many clubs and organizations helped in raising funds.

spring 2006

Journalism Communications Degree Introduced: New major for students interested in print and broadcast careers. GU will offer a new bachelor of arts degree program designed specifically for students interested in careers in both the print and electronic media. The new major, journalism communications, will become part of the university's curriculum beginning in the fall 2006 semester. Organizers initially expect five students to join the program; by year three its enrollment is projected to exceed 15 students.

Gannon is a Catholic, Diocesan, student-centered University which provides for the holistic development of undergraduate and graduate students in the Judeo-Christian tradition. As such, it offers each student outstanding teaching and a value-centered education in both liberal arts and professional specializations in order to prepare students for leadership roles in their careers, society, and church. The University faculty and staff are committed to excellence and continuous improvement in teaching, learning, scholarship, research and service. The University's environment is to be one of inclusiveness and cultural diversity.

The Lance, volume 47, was produced by Ross Miceli (editor in-chief), Amy Grande (editor), Michael Koprowski, Staci Toy, and Melissa Hanch at Gannon University in Erie, Pennsylvania and was printed through the Milestones Program by Taylor Publishing. Assistance was provided by Catherine Oakley (adviser), Bridget Rager (adviser). The account was serviced by representative Cari Frei, project coordinator Linda Tailford and account executive Steve Pinder. The size of the book was nine by twelve inches. The cover was designed by yearbook editors and incorporated photos of campus on four-color lithocote matte. The endsheets are printed on white paper using four-color process. The book is printed on 100# Dull Enamel paper stock. The 2006 volume of The Lance includes 168 pages in full color with a combination of full color and 50% desaturated photographs. Photographs were taken and submitted by Ross Miceli, Amy Grande, yearbook staff and the Gannon Knight. Other photographs were submitted by various university organizations. All body copy was set in Eurostile at various sizes, and the headline font was AdobeCaslon which also used various sizes. Pages were submitted by direct PDF to the plant. The Lance was produced using Quark® XPress ® 6.5, and Adobe® Photoshop CS, on Intel Celeron computers running Windows XP Professional® with 512 MB RAM with 60 GB hardrives, and a 5.3 MP and 7.2 MP digital camera. Copies of the book were sold for $85. Member Columbia Scholastic Press Association and American Scholastic Press Association.

The Lance was awarded the 2005 CSPA Silver Crown.
